From classical to contemporary, from desert to rain-forest, from bud to decay, the natural form of flowers and plants has been contemplated by artists, philosophers, scientists . . . and everyone.

- Best of Show Award: $1000
- Harold Davis will speak on “Making the Botanical Photo: The Digital Print As an Artifact” on June 7. He is the recipient of many photo awards, a Moab Printmaking Master, and the author of numerous bestselling photography books, including “Photographing Flowers: Exploring Macro Worlds.”
- Exhibit dates: May 22 – July 12, 2014
- PHOTO is part of Oakland Art Murmur located in Oakland’s Uptown Arts District. The exhibit will be seen by thousands of visitors at June and July First Friday art walks, and during regular hours for the duration of the show.
- This is PHOTO’s second benefit for the San Francisco Botanical Garden. A percentage of sales will go to support their work in Golden Gate Park.
